Exercise Answers and Teaching Tips

Chapter 1: Introduction to Critical Thinking

Students enjoy the exercises in Chapter 1. Most are Socratic exercises, designed to ease students into the course and encourage self-reflection in dialogue with others.

Instructors probably won't want to do all the exercises in this chapter: We generally do about half. Exercise 1.1.1 works well as an icebreaker. Students always enjoy Exercises 1.2 and 1.3, and Exercises 1.6.I and 1.6.III work well for instructors who stress writing.

Exercise 1.4.

Discussion questions:

1. What can you consistently believe with regard to Culture A?

Answer: You must believe that it is right for Culture A to be a totally pacifist culture, and hence that it is right for Culture A to permit themselves to be conquered and enslaved by Culture B. (Assuming that this belief is consistent with what you must believe as a member of Culture C.)

2. What can you consistently believe with regard to Culture B?

Answer: You must believe that it is right for Culture B to be a militaristic and slaveholding culture, and hence that it is right for Culture B to conquer and enslave Culture A. (Assuming that this belief is consistent with what you must believe as a member of Culture C.)

3. What can you consistently do with regard to Culture A?

Answer: Since both Culture A and Culture B are doing what they consider to be morally right, you cannot do anything to interfere with the invasion. (Assuming that your noninterference is permitted by the values of Culture C.)

4. What can you consistently do with regard to Culture B?

Answer: You cannot do anything to interfere with Culture B's conquest of Culture A. (Assuming that your noninterference is permitted by the values of Culture C.)

Main Lesson of Case 1:

Moral relativism may commit us to certain beliefs or practices that, intuitively, seem to us to be terribly wrong. It makes it impossible for us to criticize the values and practices of other cultures that may seem to us to be clearly wrong or misguided.

RE Learning Emma's Favorite Restaurant When Emma and her family go out to dinner, they always go to their favorite restaurant. Their favorite restaurant is an Italian restaurant, and they usually go onco a week. Emma always gets ravioli, and her little brother Josh always gets spaghetti with meat balls. Their parents like to try different things. One week when they were getting ready to go out to dinner, Emma's father suggested they try the new restaurant in town. Emma and Joeh both moaned and groaned. The new restaurant was Lebanese. All Emma and Joeh knew about Lebanese food was that it often revolved around chick peas and grape leaves. "You might actually end up liking it if you give it a try," said their mom. Their dad added, "Let's try it once, and if you don't like it, we will go back to Josh asked, "If we don't like it, can we get a pizza on the way home so we don't go hungry?" "I highly doubt you will go hungry, but if it makes you feel better, we will grab a pizza on the way home."

Set in a small Michigan town, the novel tells the story of bestselling romance author January and acclaimed fiction writer Gus. They end up being neighbors and living side-by-side in lakefront cottages. One thing leads to another and they end up making a deal: by the end of the summer he¢ÃÂÂll be the one to pen a romance book and she¢ÃÂÂle write a dark and bleak one. They both need to teach the other everything they need to know to be able to produce something in a genre they¢ÃÂÂre not used to working in. Of course, besides all the procrastinating and writing, there¢ÃÂÂs also time for love. ¢ÃÂÂThe Vanishing Half¢Ã by Brit Bennett (2020) Photo Courtesy: Goodreads Last year¢ÃÂÂs revelatory novel The Vanishing Halfà Âtackles the subject of passingà Âwhen it comes to racial identity. The Brit Bennett-penned historical novel, which is already being developed into a limited series by HBO, tells the story of two identical twin sisters from a small town in rural Louisiana where the majority Black population is so light-skinned that one of the sisters passes as a white woman for most of her life after fleeing town. The action encompasses several decades starting in the 1950s and weaves together the life of the assimilated sister ¢Ã who¢ÃÂÂs leading a double life in New Orleans first and then Los Angeles ¢Ã with that of the other one, who is forced to return home. ¢ÃÂÂVelvetà ÂWas the Night¢Ã by Silvia Moreno-Garcia (2021) Photo Courtesy: Let's close this list with a newspaper of August from one of the best-selling authors of 2020. After its Mexican gastic was chosen as the Romance Best Horror last year by Goodreads, author Silvia Moreno-Garcia returns with Velvet was the Night. The Mexican Canadian author defines the action in the 1970 City of Mother and writes about Maite, a secretary obsessed with romance stories and his beautiful neighbor Leonora.
