Things that increase snap score

Skip to content What is the highest snap score? There are now millions of daily users of Snapchat. There are also many who have achieved very high snap scores. In this article, I'll list the Snapchat accounts with the highest snap scores as well as the longest Snapchat streaks. Here's a rundown of some of the highest snap scores recorded in the second half of 2020: @dion-19 - over 61 million@michae86l - over 29.6 million@cicqlo - over 26.6 million@gpierson_20 - over 20 million@daydrunks - over 20 million@jade_rush1 - over 10.8 million@dailybrayden123 - over 7.2 million@sillyblackguy - over 6 million@jashanzzz - over 2 million@pateideep3 - over 1.4 million A snap score is basically the number of snaps you have sent and received plus a few extra factors, such as your overall presence in the platform. It is fairly easy to achieve a high snap score as long as you are actively using the app and its features. And if there is a leaderboard for the highest snap scores, it would constantly be shuffling names on the list due to the sheer number of daily users on the app. Read on to know how to achieve the highest snap score, how such accounts have the highest snap scores, and what this all means in a world so engrossed in social media., and the longest snap streaks. Highest Snap Score Snapchat has been a major player in the social media universe since its inception in 2011. It has seen a steady rise in active users ever since, ballooning to a whopping 238 million daily active users worldwide for the second half of 2020 alone. Snapchat has made an entirely different type of messaging for people to communicate with friends and acquaintances. Users often get to exchange photos and videos accompanied by quirky filters, stickers, and emojis instead of plain text chatting. No more awkward conversation starters, such as "Hello!" and "What's up!" Just tap the in-app camera button and take a snap. What Exactly Is a Snap Score? They have also made it more fun for users by integrating the Snapchat Score, or more conveniently called a Snap Score. It is the number logged by your username that is connected to your Snapchat profile. You can view two scores in your profile: one for the number of snaps you have sent and one for snaps you have received. But wait-that's not all there is to it. Snap Inc. has confirmed that other factors can boost your total snap score, and knowing all of them does not hurt your chances of getting one of the highest snap scores on the platform. We'll get to that in a bit. Accounts with Highest Snap Scores The following list below is by no means the most accurate as users have been even more competitive in getting the highest snap scores since the pandemic hit early this year. But from the data available online, here are the highest snap scores published starting 2017 up to present: @dion-19 - over 61 million@michae86l - over 29.6 million@cicqlo - over 26.6 million@gpierson_20 - over 20 million@daydrunks - over 20 million (averages 15,000 to 40,000 daily story views)@jade_rush1 - over 10.8 million@dailybrayden123 - over 7.2 million@sillyblackguy - over 6 million (averages 17,000 to 30,000 snap points per day)@jashanzzz - over 2 million@pateideep3 - over 1.4 million To put things into perspective, in February of 2017, a lot of media outlets who wrote about Snapchat wrote about @sillyblackguy having the highest snap score in the world at over 6 million. His average range of 17,000 to 30,000 snap points per day is probably no easy feat in normal circumstances. Other users, like @gpierson_20 even utilize other channels such as YouTube to gain even more following, which translates to more views in Snapchat and all his other social media accounts. Fast forward to August of 2019, the highest snap score revealed is logged by user @dion-19 at over 61 million. It just shows how much time people spend on social media apps, particularly in Snapchat. It would be no surprise if new people can surpass the users on this list just in a few days. Highest Snapchat Streak Now, a Snapchat streak or better known to users as a Snapstreak, is when you send and receive multiple snaps with another user within 24 hours for at least three days straight. A fire emoji will appear beside the name of this user as well as the number that represents how many days you two have consistently exchanged snaps so far. From a non-user's perspective, this is just the app's way of enticing people to continue using the app every single day. But to avid users of the platform, it is an extremely fun way of keeping in touch with closest friends, especially those who live far apart and rarely see each other face-to-face. Longest Snapchat Streak The Snapstreak was first launched on the 6th of April, 2015 and has since proven to be such a highly amusing feature that users have turned Snapstreaks into some kind of competition to see who can keep the longest and highest Snapchat streaks. The longest Snapstreak is at 1,957+ as of June 2020 and is still being recorded to date. Here are the top Snapchat streaks as per the leaderboard at TechJunkie: Stephanie and Jessica, 1,957 (5th of June, 2020)Chris and Caitlin, 1,845 (28th of May, 2020)Jessica and Madeline, 1,820 (21st of May, 2020)Daniel and Robin, 1,814 (5th of May, 2020)Chris and Lauren, 1,808 (12th of June, 2020)Luke and Alex, 1,802 (9th of March, 2020)Teather Crawford and Katy Elliott, 1577 (14th of August, 2020)Tormod and Mathilde, 1,759 (4th of February, 2020)Daniel and Robin, 1,730 (11th of February, 2020)Sohvi and Emilia, 1,727 (31st of January, 2020)Cara and Emily, 1,727 (7th of February, 2020)Isadora and Vitoria, 1,704 (4th of January, 2020)Caitlynn and Matthew, 1,704 (19th of January, 2020)Carly and Kelsey, 1,700 (10th of December, 2019)Tiger and Lily, 1,687 (13th of January, 2020)Sam and Rene, 1,684 (16th of January, 2020)Megan and Shane, 1,676 (30th of December, 2019)Christian and Jenny, 1,674 (16th of December, 2019)Grace and Eliana, 1,672 (9th of January, 2020)Courtne and Kara, 1,668 (29th of January, 2020) How to Increase Snap Score If you have been using Snapchat actively since its inception around eight years ago, you probably do not have much problem increasing your snap score. But even then, there has been an influx of celebrities, social media influencers, and the like who can easily gain a higher snap score by the second due to sheer popularity. Here are some tips and other tricks on how to increase and get the highest snap score: 1. Snapchat Detox This one seems silly, but believe it or not, turning off the app from time to time can really help boost your snap score in the long run. How? Once you reboot your app and start sending out and opening snaps again, the system would recognize that you've been gone a while and boost your rating for just being back in the platform. Another upside to turning off your app is getting some time off from social media to focus on the things that matter more in real life. 2. Send Snaps to Team Snapchat Team Snapchat loves to know if you are enjoying the platform as much as they do. Send them snaps to show your support and increase your snap score at the same time. 3. The More Snaps You View, the Better Viewing snaps from other people can easily get you points. Every opened snap = one point. Not bad, eh? If you're an avid follower of leading Snapchat users and celebrities, then it won't be a problem for you. Open as many snaps from your friends, too-even if it means looking at their dog-filtered selfies. 4. Follow Celebrities' Snapchat Accounts It doesn't hurt to send celebs snaps once in a while. They probably receive too many snaps from other people anyway. Remember, the very act of sending a snap gains you a point, so just snap away and scatter-bomb your snaps to as many celebrities as you would like. Just remember to be decent and not send anything that could boot you off the platform. 5. Do Not Be Fooled By Hacks There are hundreds of sites claiming that they can hack into your Snapchat account and boost your Snap Score leaderboard standing by unbelievably crazy amounts. Too good to be true, right? That's because these claims are all scams to get you to answer useless surveys for the website's benefit. Snapchat's algorithm cannot be manipulated, so it's better to earn and keep the points you have by just enjoying the app. With the few simple tips above, you'll be well on your way to becoming one of the accounts with the highest snap scores. Keep in mind that the more you're active in the platform, the more points and boosts you get, helping you up your overall snap score. So send and view snaps, upload stories and continue to connect in style with Snapchat. Conclusion - Highest Snap Score For eight years, Snapchat has recorded over 238 million daily users, and some of these users excel in getting the highest snap scores. These accounts are as follows: @dion-19 - over 61 Million@michae86l - over 29.6 Million@gpierson_20 - over 20 Million@daydrunks - over 20 Million@jade_rush1 - over 10.8 Million@dailybrayden123 - over 7.2 Million@sillyblackguy - over 6 Million@jashanzzz - over 2 Million@pateideep3 - over 1.4 Million Aside from the highest snap scores, Snapstreaks are all the rage as well. The accounts with the highest Snapchat streaks and still going strong are as follows: Stephanie and Jessica, 1,957 (5th of June, 2020)Chris and Caitlin, 1,845 (28th of May, 2020)Jessica and Madeline, 1,820 (21st of May, 2020)Daniel and Robin, 1,814 (5th of May, 2020)Chris and Lauren, 1,808 (12th of June, 2020)Luke and Alex, 1,802 (9th of March, 2020)Teather Crawford and Katy Elliott, 1577 (14th of August, 2020)Tormod and Mathilde, 1,759 (4th of February, 2020)Daniel and Robin, 1,730 (11th of February, 2020)Sohvi and Emilia, 1,727 (31st of January, 2020)Cara and Emily, 1,727 (7th of February, 2020)Isadora and Vitoria, 1,704 (4th of January, 2020)Caitlynn and Matthew, 1,704 (19th of January, 2020)Carly and Kelsey, 1,700 (10th of December, 2019)Tiger and Lily, 1,687 (13th of January, 2020)Sam and Rene, 1,684 (16th of January, 2020)Megan and Shane, 1,676 (30th of December, 2019)Christian and Jenny, 1,674 (18th of December, 2019)Grace and Eliana, 1,672 (9th of January, 2020)Courtne and Kara, 1,668 (29th of January, 2020) It may seem like being a part of any of these lists are far from reality if you are just a regular Snapchat user, but there are ways to boost your score without having to break your neck in taking snaps. You can follow these tips to help you reach your highest snap score potential: Turn off your Snapchat app once in a while and enjoy the real thingsSend Team Snapchat a few snaps to remind them of your constant supportWhen it comes to viewing snaps, the more, the merrierFollow a lot of celebrities who are on SnapchatDo not fall for misleading hacks to boost your snap score January 2, 2021 January 31, 2020 December 1, 2020 report this ad Snapchat may not be as talked-about as TikTok, but there are still millions and millions of people using it every day. The app has legions of loyal followers and is also constantly bringing in new features to keep things fresh. The app recently revealed it will let users binge-watch Creator Shows just like they would on Netflix or YouTube. But even though it's bringing in new features, Snapchat still has the things that made it a hit in the first place. A big part of which is the "Snapchat score" What is a Snapchat score? You may have noticed the number beside your username on Snapchat, and how it keeps going up and up. This is a Snapchat score, which is a special equation combining the number of Snaps you've sent and received, the stories you've posted and other factors, according to Snapchat's website. Basically, it shows how active you are on the app. You can view your Snapchat score by swiping down on the Snapchat camera screen and the figure will be displayed next to your username. Tap once on your Snapchat score to see the number of sent snaps vs received snaps. What is the Snapchat score breakdown? You receive a point for sending a Snap, you receive a point for opening a Snap, but there are no points for just messaging on Snapchat. You also receive a point for posting a Snap to your story. Unfortunately, Snapchat scores do not increase if you watch a story. Additional points to your Snapchat score may take a while to register and may all come at once. If you have not been active on Snapchat for a while, then the first Snap you send on the app will add six points to your score. You can see your friends Snapchat's scores when you swipe right on their name to chat them, then click the three blue lines on the top left corner of your chat screen. Their score will be displayed beside their username. A Snapchat score is similar to a followers list or a friends list on other apps, it gives your profile some authority and shows people how strong your snap game is. But what if my Snaps don't add up? If you add up your sent Snaps number and received Snaps number - you may be surprised to get a different result to your final Snapchat score. This can be due to the fact that Snapchat may award you different points depending on how you sent the Snap. If you send a Snap to multiple users you will receive a point for every user you sent it to and then another point for sending the Snap itself. However, no one really knows the exact answer and Snapchat may have a variety of different ways to calculate your score depending on how you send and receive snaps. How can I increase my Snapchat score? Obviously, get snapping, Send out Snaps, be active on the app. If you want to see your Snapchat score increase dramatically without bothering all of your friends, here is a hack.. First, you should add celebrity Snapchat accounts to your friends list. Not only are their stories entertaining, but you can use them to raise your Snapchat score. To save you time, read this definitive list of celebrity Snapchat accounts to follow - and get adding. These celebrities you add may never reply to any of your Snaps, they may never open or receive them. Sending a celebrity or a famous Snapchatter a Snap still only increases your score by one point - but at least you're not annoying your friends. Unlike Instagram and Twitter, which have hack programs that will help you gain followers, the Snapchat algorithm cannot be hacked. You'd be wasting your time, and possibly money, if you engage a program that says they can increase your Snapchat score.
