Top Review Review Reviewall Position Reviewsâ€¦ o BirdMom97265.0 de 5 starsa Nice variation on the traditional Bluetooth headset - and works very well! Reviewed in the United States on October 3, 2014i bought these to replace a Motorola's Bluetooth headset that got bad quickly - within two weeks, and yes, I bought on Amazon. I really liked the setup around the neck, that Motorola had, so I bought these when I returned the faulty earphone. So far (it has been about a month, I think), this headset is working as a champion. It keeps a load through a working day of 9 hours of almost constant use and then some. The controls are located in logical places and are very intuitive to use. The loading port is burned, except that it has a small tab that closes after you charge, which I like very much, because the opposite, the port would be exposed to skin oils and this may not be so good for it over time. The sound quality is excellent, for me, although I must say that I am not audiophile, then those with more sensitive ears may disagree. The headset (in fact, it's more like a "neck" easily rests around the neck, and it's pretty good. I have to entice it a few times during the day, and I imagine that if you did high-impact exercise that You may have a problem with positioning become consistent. However, for my purposes it works very, very well. Easily stop with anything I'm using at the time to play music through - usually my ipod - and has a good range. I can leave my iPod on my table and walk clear to the back of our building (I would estimate about 80 feet, give or take) before the connection starts to fail. Magnets at the end of the "talos" do a fair job of keeping headphones in their ports when not in use. I think I usually have to "help" tracks to find the doors before connecting to the bracket. So, my only problem with this headset is the usual "O" trouble "don't get too good in my ears" I'm challenged by one ear, definitely - but they look good enough for me not to mind tweaking them or replacing them in my ears from time to time. I think I just think the convenience of having this around my neck, as opposed to a normal earpiece, is the biggest selling point for me. Don't ruin my hair, and blanket © They are in place quite well during my low impact training every morning. As for appearances, well, you'll have to decide if you want this as a fashion accessory every day I don't care, and my... © teal-colored- but others may not like to have it around their neck for everyone to see and wonder if © some space alien! In short, for me, a big purchase and I would definitely recommend this earpiece. It's comfortable, it works well, and it looks well done.
