The recordings are clear and clear. Possibility to save on the cloud and others Extremely satisfied with the quality. I run the application on an iOS. You will soon use the transcription function. Later I'll update you my review. Delighted I found this recorder. By the way, I had my cell phone about 10-12 feet away from the point where I was talking about. I can reduce the window and use other phone functions during registration and will not stop recording. The microphone on this application is superb. High quality clarity Quality It was just a foot away. The application is better than my store will arrive with your mobile phone initially. I have eliminated this application. Get the terrifying hands down. I use it practically every day. October 14, 2018 Update: Continue to function well. I registered a meeting and time savings for notes. Other than some word here and there due to quality presenters voice, so far so good. What is incredible is that the application works well with all iOS updates. Thata s A appreciable resource to own this application. Too many applications do not work well or lose their functionality A € Stara with more recent iOS updates. Continue so! I had tried Dragon dictation in the past and found it too hard to use, I speak fast and I'm sick, so I thought only WasnÁ € t cut to dictate my writing. A recent arm injury forced me to try again. I searched for other options over dragon due to the price and the learning curve. This app has a lot of great advice and reviews so I thought $ 3 was worth seeing if it worked. It really does it! All commands for quotes, punctuation marks and new interruptions of Riga All work with this and better than everyone knows my ability to speak horrible. I also like that there is a recording of what I said so in case the confuses transcripts what I said that donates the t must try to remember which word or phrase that I was trying to say (unlike dragon that it is necessary to save the audio, at least the version I tried in any case). This is the best way of dragon dictation and much cheaper! Also, I can record anywhere and gives me t must be linked to the computer. This is a must for writers who want a cheap and simple way to dictate their work. This application does a great job of registration, but I must remember to stop and register restart if I want to capture 30 minutes transcription of a virtual commitment. Instead I'd like to see more options with the recorder. One, offer more segment to record and transcribe with the application. For example 30, 45, and 1 segments of an hour. Furthermore, they offer a visual clue that the session is 10 and / or 5 minutes so you can determine if we need to finish the session in advance and / or establish a new recording track. Two, provide the chance to choose which registration sections we want transcribed. Justification: Sometime The first 30 minutes is not the most important moment to review the session again, especially when we are still trying to understand the concepts of virtual meeting. Three, if you are a memory or some other unknown restriction, you tell before you start recording a session just to find out after the event concluded that the application has not registered any of the virtual engagement. Fourth, show actual recording / number of words captured by false departures from background noise, etc. We can eliminate those sessions easily. Very frustrating. One side always tips towards the earth, but if I lived on the moon it would be dark for two weeks and light for two weeks, so every night you can search and see the dawn or sunset moving on the surface of the moon. 00:23 The opposite side is not completely invisible. Just like the way the Wobble of the Earth gives us seasons, the moon's wobble allows us to really see a bit of the opposite side of the moon along the edge. 00:37 Okay, so scientists are still not sure where the moon came. There is an idea that perhaps he flew somewhere else in space and stopped that he turns around the earth. But most scientists think that what has probably happened is that a long time ago there was a huge planet that hit the earth. The explosion was so big and so hot that made a gigantic ocean magma throughout the earth. 01:41 A cluster of rock and magma fired and remained in the earth's orbit and started to come together in a big ball that has become the moon. So this is what scientists say the moon is, a big piece of the earth. But do we know that the cheese is actually, the dad right? 01:53 It may not explain the gravity of the moon though - if it was made of cheese it should be less than a sixth of the gravity of the earth, depending on the type of cheese. cheese.
