Highest paying phd jobs

The wheels are increasingly assumed in the high-level works among the industries. So there is no reason for you to stay stuck in Academia where doctoral wages are stagnant or falling. The National Institute of US health reports an early annual salary of US $ 37.740 for academic postdocs and a study published in Nature reported an initial salary of US $ 23,660 a year. The minimum wage established by the standard of standard US fair work. Even with inflation current, medium salaries for postdocs are less than $ 49.999 a year. This means that the rent and prices of other daily products and services have increased, but your salary has not followed the Trend. Why? Since there is a surplus of research doctors in Academia, which allows you to pay the a €
