Solutions- Matching Headings

- Do this question first. By doing this you will be able to get the general meaning of the text as a whole.
- You are not expected to read every word of the text. This will take too long and you don't have time for this. In this kind of question you are only expected to understand the main idea of each paragraph.
- If there are words you don't understand, don't worry about this.
- Be aware of synonyms.
- If there are two or three headings that are similar, write them beside the paragraph and try to find out the difference between the two headings. If you still can't decide which one suits best, move on and come back to it later.
- Don't read too quickly. Some teachers advise that students should just 'skim' the text because you don't have much time. In my experience, this leads to students not understanding most of the text and making mistakes.
- Don't panic if you know nothing about the general topic of the reading text.
- Don't look at the headings first.

Don't forget that the best way to improve your reading skill is by frequent practice. Step 2 Carefully read the instructions for the questions. In the text, paragraphs are labelled A-H. Match the correct heading to the paragraph. Failing relationships and negative feelings Winning the lottery may not make you happier What is Hedonic Adaptation? Philanthropy benefits the giver Wealth management issues Spend your winnings wisely What you do, not what you buy Behavioral Changes MJ Mendoza, "WOULD WINNING THE LOTTERY MAKE YOU HAPPIER?" groundreport, Accessed 11.8.2017 Not sure about some of the answers? Paragraph C tells us that 'large sums of money can be a lot to manage'. If you have any tips on how people can improve their reading, then leave your tips in the comments section below. Up next is Reading Practice 4! Don't forget to see our other reading practice exercises: Reading Practice 1 Reading Practice 2 Make sure you understand what you have to do before you write any answers. Don't get stuck on words that you don't understand, this type of task is about the general meaning. In the test, write your answers on your answer paper straight away. Can you remember the tips from Reading Practice 1 on how to deal with matching headings? Step 3 Read the questions. You skim read the text in step 1 and so you should have an idea where in the text the answer should be found. Skim reading the text first will allow you to come back and easily find the answers for questions in step 3. Familiarise yourself with the list of headings. Look for and underline keywords/phrases in each heading. Try and get the general meaning of each paragraph. Skim over the passage to get the overall gist of each paragraph and match the headings to the paragraphs as you read. You will not receive any extra time to transfer your answers. Paragraph A states 'This is partially due to a phenomenon called hedonic adaptation' and goes on to explain what that means: 'This describes our tendency to become used to the happiness after experiencing it for the first time.' Winning the lottery may not make you happier Paragraph B informs us that 'winning the lottery would make you happy but only for a short period of time'. Philanthropy benefits the giver 'giving to others' and 'spending on others' is a paraphrase of philanthropy. Remember: Synonyms of words in the questions will help you to find answers in the text. Make sure you don't write too many words. Make sure the words you write fit into the grammar of the sentence. Check your spelling. In paragraph E, the phrase 'some even become greedier than they were before winning' is an example of a behavioral change. Hopefully our answer explanations will help. What you do, not what you buy Paragraph G is an extension of the ideas in the previous paragraph. As you do this think of synonyms for the key words. If you are serious about getting a higher band, then you need to be doing reading practice every day. Some people like to make notes at the side of the text about the 'gist' (general meaning) of a paragraph, however, for this sort of text it is probably not necessary. How many words can you answer with? Be careful of headings that seem similar. Failing relationships and negative feelings In paragraph D we learn 'Eventually, lottery winners wind up cutting themselves from others because of the fear of being used as a just a source of money than a source of friendship.' The words in bold highlight the paraphrasing of the terms 'failing relationships' and 'negative feelings'. Later the paragraph says 'A study... proves that gaining wealth can actually change our behaviour drastically.' Spend your winnings wisely Paragraph F informs us that 'While most of us would indulge in a fabulous lifestyle after winning, there are ways that winning the lottery can make us happier than having the latest supercar in your garage' and then goes on to introduce us to the best way of spending our winnings (the money we won). It states that 'findings show that people tend to adapt faster to extrinsic and material things than we do on experience'. Remember spelling and grammar is important! It seems like a simple thing to do but many candidates don't read the instructions or misunderstand the instructions and so answer questions incorrectly. Today we are going to practice matching headings and sentence completion questions. Complete the following sentences with NO MORE THAN THREE WORDS from the text. What is Hedonic Adaptation? Experience is what we do. Paragraph H tells us that 'the University of British Columbia and Harvard Business School proved that spending more on others provides more happiness than spending it on yourself.' Step 1 Skim read the passage. Extrinsic and material things are what we buy. Don't read every word, don't worry about unfamiliar vocabulary. Think about what makes them different. Reading the first and last sentence of each paragraph should help you to do this. Locate the answer and write it.
