Features of the e-mail controller: - The high accuracy speed of the verification of the email address. Up to 99% guaranteed delivery. - Email checker supports many mail providers that others cannot. We can check Yahoo, Hotmail, Gmail and more. - Our average email validation response time is a few seconds. - Data privacy. We'll never send your addresses. Your data is never resolved in any way. - Easily integrate email validation with your favorite app. Check the full list at - Email checker works on Google Sheets directly within the spreadsheets. - Detects rebounds, disposables, role accounts, free suppliers and many more. Google sheets has gained a lot of popularity due to its collaborative features which is very goodsmall teams to work on data together. Many teams are using Google sheets and a question that often come from them is 'How to email from Google sheets?' There may be several cases where you have to send emails from Google sheets, some of them may be – automatically send emails once you reach your destination data, automatically send emails to the whole team, send personalized messages with data from Email Id sheets etc. So I'm writing this quick tutorial on how to send emails from Google sheets using Google's application script. Google Apps Script is a JavaScript scripting language of Google applications. It is quite easy once you start using it. follow the next steps and you will understand how it works. Open any existing Google spreadsheet or create one from sheets.google.com click > tools script editor, A new window opens which contains a code editor. This is where we write the app script code. Send basic email to Google sheets The Apps script has a Mail service that can be used to send mail with one line of code. syntax for sending basic Email: MailApp.sendEmail(to, subject, body); Add this line to the existing function or create a new MailApp.sendEmail(["email protected"], "test mail", "hello da codingslove.com"); Save and click > opens a permission dialog > continue and allow, The mail will be sent to the code address. This is what you sent an email programmatically using a code line! A simple example to show how to send customizedwith data from spreadsheet. Let's say my spreadsheet has some data – names, emails and scores of a team. The goal is to send emails to users with their score. Go to the script editor and start writing code. CustomEmail() { var sheet = SpreadsheetApp.getActiveSheet(); var range = foil.getRange("A2:C4"); var UserData = range.getValues(); for (i in UserData) { var row = UserData[i]; var name = lines[0]; var email = Your score is " + score); } Explanation code Take a look at the code above once. It is almost self-explanatory, first we get the active sheet, then get the range with the data using the getRange() method and get the values in range using the getValues() method. This method returns a number of values. read all about arrays here Then we use by loop through each user, get their name, email, score and send them an email. To run the script from the spreadsheet without opening the script editor, I created a button using the design to insert > draw a button form with the text send email > save & close. click on small arrow at the top right of the button and assign a > script to enter the function name. In this case, the function name is CustomEmail. Now whenever the button is clicked, emails are sent to users. Wrong This was a simple case of using sending emails to Google sheets, you can add more features like making the dynamic user data range using getLastRow() App spreadsheet method so when a new user line is added, the email will be sent to that user even without changing any code. As already mentioned, there are many other ways to send emails can be useful as automatic sending of emails using trigger timed, edit spreadsheet triggers etc. To learn more about the mail service using the official documentation here: Mail Service – script application Example of trigger timed here – Google timed sheets triggers and email notifications example. Update: Check the next part of this tutorial – Create Auto reply Google form with 2 code lines Plus there is a limit on the number of emails that can be sent using this service – check the limits here: Share for Google services Read the documentation, open a spreadsheet and start experimenting with the code, you will love the code If you have questions or feedback, comment below. below.
